

"NOT GUILTY", MATEWAN JURY'S VERDICT

Germany Decisively Victorious In Upper Silesian Election

Allied Forces Prepare For Possible Polish Invasion

BERLIN, March 21.—Germany won an overwhelming victory in the plebiscite held in upper Silesia yesterday to determine the future national status of that region, according to official returns received here. Two districts were still missing at 9 o'clock this morning, but the count showed that 876,000 votes had been cast for Germany and 389,000 for Poland.

Reports from Breslau state that the plebiscite was generally without untoward incidents. Provisional returns published in newspapers here show that in Oppeln, Germany received 20,000 votes to 11,000 for Poland. In Tarnowitz, the Germans cast 85 percent of the ballots and in the town of Beuthen they cast 78 percent. In the Beuthen country districts the vote as published, stood: Germany, 59,222; Poland, 62,040.

In Muenchshuette, the Germans received 32,000 and the Poles 10,851. In Kattowitz town and country districts give the Germans 72,831, and the Poles 66,187, the town of Kattowitz voting German by 93 percent. In Hindenburg the Germans cast 36,678 votes to 31,625 by the Poles, while in Kreuzburg the German vote was 33,290 to 1,556 for the Poles.

Palm Sunday, the day of the voting in upper Silesia, seems likely to go down in history as one of the most momentous days in the adjustment of European boundaries growing out of the recent war. The day had been looked forward to with intense interest by all Germany and Poland as well, while evidences of world-wide attention upon the balloting were not lacking in advices coming from abroad.

The area involved, comprising some five thousand square miles, was the largest section of territory to have its fate submitted to a plebiscite under the peace treaty, but even more important than the size of the district was the material wealth contained in its varied mineral resources, mainly coal, but also including iron, zinc and lead.

Germany has shown by her representations to the allies how vital she considered these materials to her ability to reconstitute herself economically and meet reparations demands, while the need of the resources of upper Silesia for the economical well-being of Poland has been hardly less strenuously insisted upon by the Polish people.

A notable feature of the plebiscite was the influx of both Germans and Poles.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCEMENT OF DANCER TO MILLIONAIRE CAUSES A SENSATION

Miss Evan Burrows Fontaine. The rumored engagement and marriage of Miss Evan Burrows Fontaine has created no little stir in New York. She said she would neither affirm nor deny the statement that she was married to the son of one of New York's wealthiest families. She went on to say, however, that her wedding had been kept secret because there had been "so much trouble between the two families." Miss Fontaine is well known both on the stage and screen.

Cold Snap In Sight

Cold weather forecasts and the first day of spring hardly harmonize. But that's just what the almanac makers and weather professors are throwing on the screen for the benefit of the public. From the baby breezes of the past few days into the typical, chilling March winds is the plunge Billy Butt-In and his tribe appear to have in store for the folks with lightweights on and prospects of blossoming out in new Easter duds. And this spring vacation with the youngsters, too. Truly these river valleys do not lack variety in temperatures. Here is the forecast from the weather kings.

OHIO—Fair tonight and Tuesday. Much colder. Moderate cold wave.

KENTUCKY—Rain and much colder tonight. Temperature close to freezing. Tuesday fair and colder.

NEW ATTACK ON VALIDITY OF DRY AMENDMENT

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 21.—An entirely new attack on the validity of the prohibition amendment, based upon the requirement that it be ratified within seven years, was made today in the supreme court.

The attack was made in a brief filed by counsel for J. J. Dillon, of San Francisco, charged with violation of the prohibition enforcement act. Dillon is seeking a writ of habeas corpus.

The provision attached was offered first by the then Senator Harding when the amendment was being proposed in the senate.

The section making the entire ratification imperative within seven years, the brief asserts, specifically violates Article 5 of the constitution, which gives congress no power to impose a limit on ratification "or to otherwise attempt to control what the legislatures of the states shall do in their deliberations."

The brief quoted Senator Harding in offering the provision as having "clearly stated that his vote for the resolution was conditioned on this provision being approved" and quoted Senator Borah as having called attention then to the unconstitutionality of the section.

Sixteen Defendants, Cleared Of Killing Albert Felts, Face 6 Other Indictments

WILLIAMSON, W. VA., March 21.—The sixteen defendants tried in connection with the death of Albert C. Felts, who was killed during the Matewan gun fight last May 19, were today found not guilty by a jury in the Mingo county circuit court.

The defendants were formally discharged by Judge R. D. Bailey, presiding, but were remanded to jail pending bond arrangements on six other indictments charging the men with having been implicated in the death of six other private detectives killed with Felts.

Verdict Greeted By Cheers

The trial consumed 46 days. News of the acquittal was shouted to a large group of miners standing at a window outside the court room and the announcement was received with enthusiasm. Wives and relatives of the Matewanians stood on the porch of the county jail and received their kin with open arms. Williamson residents received the verdict quietly and there were no demonstrations aside from an outburst of cheers from the miners who had stood vigil since early morning.

Hired Detectives To Evict Miners

A coal miner's strike has been in progress in Mingo county coal fields since July, 1919. Organizers of the United Mine Workers' Union sought to unionize the districts both in Mingo county and in Pike county on the Kentucky side of the border. Nearly a year later the Stone Mountain Coal Company engaged the Baldwin-Felts Detective Agency to evict striking miners' families from the company houses in which they were living. On May 19, 1920, a party of private detectives headed by Albert C. Felts, carried out the evictions. After a day's fight with argument between the operatives and city officials the party finished its work and prepared to depart from Matewan on an early evening train.

Felty Battle Followed

Upon leaving the hotel, Albert Felts and his men stopped in front of a hardware store. The leader, and Mayor C. C. Testerman engaged in a conversation and while they stood close to each other talking a shot was fired. In an instant rifles and pistols barbed from all directions and before the shooting ended, Felts, Testerman, six other members of the Baldwin-Felts party and two other residents, fell, mortally wounded, in the main street of the village.

Prosecution Aimed At Hatfield

Twenty-three men of Matewan were indicted by a grand jury at Williamson in connection with the death of Felts. At the outset of the trial, which began on January 29, the cases against several of the defendants were dismissed and as the taking of testimony progressed others were discharged on motion of the prosecution. When the jury took the case the fate of but sixteen of the original defendants remained to be determined. One of those to await a verdict was Sid Hatfield, Matewan's chief of police, and around whom a majority portion of the testimony was culminated. During the closing arguments of counsel reference was made to Hatfield's marriage to the widow of Testerman two weeks after the latter was killed. Mrs. Hatfield has been in constant attendance at court since the trial began.

Sixteen Defendants Acquitted

Sid Hatfield, police chief; Reece Chambers, William Bowman, Clair Overstreet, Doug Mounds, Jesse Boyd, Charles Kiser, Ben Mounds, William B. Coleman, Ed Chambers, Lee Taylor, James Overstreet, Al Williams, Van Clay, Fred Purgitt and Hatfield Chambers.

Those whose cases were dismissed are: Isaac Brewer, Fred Weigh, B. R. Page, N. H. Atwood, William Star, Albert Barrager and J. C. McCoy. After being dismissed Brewer testified for the prosecution.

Six other indictments hang over the 27 men in connection with the deaths of the other six operatives who fell during the engagement.

Aside from Felts, the Baldwin-Felts men killed were: Lee Felts, brother of Albert C. J. W. Ferguson, A. J. Roeder, E. O. Powell, C. B. Cunningham and C. T. Piggins.

Hatfield Faces Another Indictment

Hatfield also stands indicted with the charge of $700 from the body of Albert Felts.

Five of the private detectives who escaped after the battle were indicted in connection with the death of Mayor Testerman, Otto Kingsley and Robert Mullens, the latter two being the other residents of Matewan who met death. They have been described as bystanders.

The indicted operatives are: R. C. Buchanan, G. W. Anderson, John McConnel, Oscar Bennett and G. O. Hilderbrand.

Several months after the street fight Anse Hatfield, proprietor of the hotel that housed the private detectives during their stay in Matewan, was shot and killed while sitting on the porch of his hotel. Sid Hatfield, Hatfield Chambers, Ed Chambers and Clair Chambers have been indicted in connection with his death. Anse

Sid Hatfield as he appeared "ready for business" as police chief.

Hatfield had been looked upon as an important state's witness in the case just concluded.

The trial ended today has been the longest and conceded to have been the most sensational in the history of West Virginia. It was held in the county court house at Williamson, but a few miles from where the Hatfield-McCoy feud was hatched.

Man Kidnapped, His Auto, Money And Jewels Stolen

DAYTON, O., March 21.—Police were unable to find trace of handis reported to have kidnapped F. C. Shawhan in his own automobile early today. Shawhan said he was robbed of $8,240 in money, a diamond ring, his watch and auto. He told the police that while on Summit street four masked men stopped his car, made him drive out on the Germantown pike, west of the city, where they detained him and drove back to the city.

Looks Like Fols Voted For Germany

BRINE, SWITZERLAND, March 21.—Some districts of upper Silesia, where there was a preponderance of Poles, voted in favor of Germany in the plebiscite held yesterday. It is reported here.

Just about the time a feller decides to surrender to spring fever, along comes a cold weather spell to upset him. There's goin' to be an awful howl go up from the youngsters about this cold snap comin' durin' spring vacation, not to mention the Easter purraders and the merchants with their shelves loaded with lightweight clothing. And the folks who've changed from heavies to B. V. D.'s'll be on the warpath along with the amateur gardeners who've got some of their early crops so far advanced they can almost taste 'em. But here it is: OHIO—Fair tonight and Tuesday. Much colder. Moderate cold wave. KENTUCKY—Rain and much colder tonight. Temperature close to freezing. Tuesday fair and colder.

The extremes in local temperature today were: High 76; low, 60.

800 Students Flee Flames Through A Dense Smoke (BULLETIN)

NORFOLK, VA., Mar. 21.—The John Marshall high school was threatened with destruction by fire late today. Eight hundred children were at their desks when the first alarm was sent in and firemen had great difficulty in getting them out through the dense smoke. Early reports were that there had been no casualties.

The flames spread from the main building to the annex and crossed the street where it swept a row of residences. The Portsmouth fire department has been called on for assistance.

Flying Tackle Brings Down Escaped Prisoner

TOLEDO, O., March 21.—Joe Urbayis, the first man arrested in the million dollar post office robbery of February 17, made an unsuccessful dash for liberty while on his way back to Lucas county jail after his arraignment Saturday in Federal Judge Killits' court it became known today.

Four other suspects, all under guard of federal inspectors, deputy marshals and detectives, were with Urbayis when he attempted his dash for freedom.

Urbayis slipped his wrists from the handcuffs just as he entered the jail. He ran down a corridor closely pursued by Deputy Marshal Martin Szumnowsky, a former well known Toledo maroon football player.

Szumnowsky made a flying leap, tackled Urbayis low and brought the desperado to the floor. He was again placed in jail and an extra guard thrown about the place.

Urbayis, who is under $150,000 bond, the largest ever set in Lucas county, pleaded not guilty to the charge of looting the United States mails.

His trial will begin before Judge Killits, April 11.

Costs Exceeded Revenues In Larger Cities

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 21.—Governmental costs, including interest and outlays for permanent improvements, for the 227 cities of the country with a population of 30,000 or more, exceeded total revenues by $8,291,000 in the year 1919, according to statistics on municipal finances made public today by the census bureau. Discounting the item of permanent outlays, however, revenues, which aggregated $1,224,112,000, or $35.32 per capita, exceeded governmental costs by $253,902,000, it was shown.

Revenues receipts exceeded current governmental expenses and interest in all but four cities of the group, the figures showed, while in 117 cities revenues exceeded all expenditures, including permanent outlays. The total net indebtedness of the group was placed at $2,679,571,000 or $77.82 per capita, with that of New York City alone $1,009,503,000, amounting to more than one-third of the total.

Four Bodies Believed Buried

CHICAGO, March 21.—Wrecking crews today were clearing away the tons of debris scattered by an explosion Saturday night in the elevator of the Armour Grain Co. on the south side, under which the bodies of four victims were believed to be concealed. The two known dead were blown out of the structure by the blast, which it was believed was due to spontaneous combustion which ignited inflammable mill dust.

The grain loss was placed at about $1,000,000 by E. A. James, secretary of the company, who said that it was believed the other $3,600,000 worth of grain in the concrete bins, could be salvaged.

Police and officials of the company declared they placed little credence in a theory that the explosion might have been caused by a dissatisfied employee.

HARDING SEEKS EARLY PASSAGE OF EMERGENCY TARIFF MEASURE TO TAKE CARE OF THE FARMERS

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 21.—(By The Associated Press)—President Harding suggested today to Chairman Fordney that the house ways and means committee sound out the senate Republicans as to the feasibility of early passage of an emergency tariff that would take care of farmers.

The proposal was discussed at length, but it was said the committee reached no definite conclusion. It was the idea of the president, members said, to avoid an embargo, and to limit the bill to a very few items including wheat and wool.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1921, by Times Pub. Co.)

WASHINGTON, March 21.—President Harding and his cabinet have determined after a long discussion of the agricultural situation throughout the country to study specifically these methods of relief:

Three Methods of Relief

FIRST: The use of war powers of the executive to embargo importations of wool, meats, cotton, and other products which are coming into the United States in such quantities at present as to keep prices from rising to the pre-war normal, below which they have gone in recent months.

SECOND: The more extensive use of the war finance corporation to finance farming industries. Conferences are planned between secretaries Hoover and Wallace of the commerce and agricultural departments, and Eugene Meyer of the War Finance Corporation at which a policy of finance will be formulated and laid before President Harding for approval.

THIRD: The enactment of emergency tariff legislation later to replace the embargoes because the president is reluctant to use war powers any longer than necessary and a tariff wall is considered much more scientific than an embargo in controlling the influx of foreign commodities.

Embargo May Be Used as Stop Gap

The embargo may be used only as a stop-gap until the tax bill has been considered by congress and that body is ready to tackle the tariff. Contrasting arguments have been made to Harding which for the moment make it look as if he would favor the enactment of the Fordney Emergency Tariff Law in exactly the same form as it was passed by Congress last session only to receive a Wilson veto. Those who favor such a course say that a general tariff bill must be indefinitely postponed until after tax laws are made and further data is available as to the cost of production around the world. It is

141.4 Persons Per Square Mile In Ohio

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 21.—The average density of population throughout the United States exclusive of outlying possessions, was 35.5 persons per square mile of land area in 1920 as against 30.9 in 1910, the census bureau announced today.

The density in the individual states in 1920, ranged from 7-10 of one square mile in Nevada, to 566.1 in Rhode Island, the bureau announced. It exceeded 200 per square mile in five states, Rhode Island with 566.4; Massachusetts, 479.2; New Jersey, 420; Connecticut, 28.4, and New York, 217.9.

The density figures for other states were: California, 22.0; Illinois, 115.7; Indiana, 81.3; Kentucky, 63.8; Ohio, 141.4; Pennsylvania, 194.5; Texas, 17.8; West Virginia, 60.9.

Greece Calls Three Classes To Colors In Preparation For War On The Turkish Nationalists

LONDON, March 21.—The calling by King Constantine of Greece, of three classes to the national colors, announced at Athens Sunday, in all probability portends a Greek offensive against the Turkish Nationalists, the Greek minister of war, given in an interview here today, M. Gounaris, came to London today this month to attend sessions of the supreme council.

"This decree," said M. Gounaris, "is a natural consequence of the attitude of Turkey, who has again declared she will not accept the proposals of the London conference, and is demanding the return of Thrace and Smyrna, obtained by Greece as the result of the war."

"It is also being openly declared that the Turkish forces in Cilicia are being withdrawn for use against the Greeks."

Held Confirmation Services

Palm Sunday was appropriately observed at the First Evangelical church yesterday. At both morning and evening services the attendance filled the church, which was profusely decorated with palms. Nine children were confirmed at the morning service and thirty-three adults were received in the evening by letter or by confession.

The special Lenten services will close this week, one being held on Wednesday evening and one on Friday afternoon at three o'clock. The attendance at these services has been unusually large this year, the church having been practically filled at all of them.

The nine young people in the confirmation class were Leonard Kleinknecht, Harry Wigot, Howard Zeisler, Carl Wigot, Albert Bender, Anna Wolff, Emma Staker, Mabel Corlett and Viola Cook.

The thirty-three adults admitted were: Miss Augusta Hoebel, Mr. and Mrs. George Weller, Miss Irene Klotz, Miss Viola Ross, Norman Dinevelt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Basler, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Albrecht, Mrs. Gus Lipp, Mrs. Margaret Streitenberger, Mrs. Elizabeth Lorchach, Mr. and Mrs. Benton Kinder, Mrs. Walter Gims, Mr. and Mrs. Zeisler, Mr. and Mrs. F. ## HOLY WEEK ADDRESSES AT ALL SAINTS'

The Rev. E. A. Anger Powell, pastor, will deliver addresses at All Saints' church, corner of Fourth and Court streets at 7:30 p. m. Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings this week. His subject this evening will be "Sin Repented Of" and his address will deal with the beautiful story of Mary of Bethany. If you wish to enter into the spirit of this Holy Week and prepare yourself for the joys of Easter you cannot do better than be present at each of these devotional services. All those who love our Lord Jesus Christ in faith and sincerity will desire to follow Him to Calvary. These services will last about fifty minutes. The church is two squares west of Chillicothe on Fourth.

WHAT YOU OWE

Regardless of what every man owes to HIMSELF—what do you owe to your children, to anybody who depends upon you, and to civilized people all around you?

The very least you can do is to safeguard your family's COMFORT—save enough money to protect your dependents in the event that they no longer have your support.

There is only one sure way—as has been found after many years of experience in all civilized Nations—to provide for the future needs of those who look to you for protection and that is to spend less than you earn so that a surplus fund will gradually be accumulated.

This surplus you can accumulate conveniently at THE ROYAL which welcomes savings deposits from a dollar up, pays 4 per cent compound interest. It also issues Time Certificates which bear 5 per cent when drawn for six months or longer.

HEARING ON STREET RAILWAY FRANCHISE POSTPONED; AGREEMENT MAY BE REACHED

N. & W. SUFFERS COSTLY FREIGHT WRECK

One of the most expensive freight wrecks the N. & W. has suffered in many months occurred early Sunday morning two miles north of Ashville, when time freight train No. 84, in charge of Conductor P. J. White and Engineer Samuel Foster, piled up eleven cars and tore up the track for over 400 yards.

Traffic on the east and west bound tracks was blocked until 11:15 Sunday morning, the wreckage being cleared up by crews from Portsmouth and Columbus.

Two of the cars were filled with meat, three with automobiles, one with canned milk and the others with canned goods. Several of the cars were smashed and ripped to pieces. One car was filled with Packard machines, one with Paiges and one with Buicks. The car of Paiges was so badly damaged that the machines will have to be sent back to the factory in Detroit. The Packards and Buicks were damaged, but not seriously, off the ends of the N. & W. said Monday.

Clats and canned goods were strewn along the scene of the wreck, and all the cars were badly damaged.

A Journal on one of the cars filled with meat burned out and this caused the costly mishap, N. & W. officials said Monday.

COLUMBUS, O., March 21.—The hearing of the application of the Portsmouth Street Railway & Light Company to abandon service in Portsmouth and New Boston, set for tomorrow before the state public utilities commission, has been postponed until April 26, it was announced today.

Negotiations for a new franchise are understood to be in progress.

When asked about the postponement Monday City Solicitor Anselm Skelton said he had filed the application, and confirmed the report that efforts were being made to bring the city and Street Railway Company to an agreement on the increased fare controversy.

NOON HOUR PASSION WEEK SERVICES OPEN

The Noon-Hour Passion Week Services, which are being conducted by members of the Portsmouth Ministerial Association every day this week, from 12 to 12:30 p. m., at the Central Presbyterian Church, started off auspiciously today, Rev. B. L. Cartwright, pastor of the entertaining church, presiding at the initial meeting. Rev. Charles Oakley, pastor of First Christian church, will preside at the speaker being the Rev. John C. Jackson, pastor of the Church at the Terminus.

Prayer was offered by Rev. W. H. Bishop of the Kendall Avenue Baptist church. After the song service, the Rev. E. H. Dally, of the United Brethren church, delivered a most interesting fifteen minute sermon, taking for his text part of John 3:16: "God so loved that He sacrificed..."

He said in part: "Jesus was never so unspokeably great as during the tremendous events of the final week of His life. During those days He suffered, not so much in body as in soul. It was less the nails that hurt and more the neglect of friends, the hatred of enemies, and the veiling of His Father's face."

The cross reveals perfectly the greatness of the love in the heart of God. He who touches the cross, touches the very heart of the Father.

The cross establishes the right-ness of God's law. Christ on the cross opens a righteous channel through which Salvation may flow to the whole world. The suffering of Jesus on the cross is the suffering of God. His love shines the most brightly on Calvary.

"In the death of Christ mankind is crowned and the Kingdom of Heaven is thrown open to all believers. To grasp the oneness of the final scene of this life is to know the purchase price of Redemption."

Only as we enter the shadow of the cross do we realize the unChristlike-ness of our own hearts. Did ever such love and sorrow meet. Or thorns compose so rich a crown?"

ROUND-UP ALLEGED THIEVES

A gang of alleged thieves, giving their names as Everett Arwood, 21; Albert Fremont, 18; Landon Evans, 20; Raymond Glenn, 17; and Earl Hammett, 18, living at New Boston, were rounded up by Sheriff E. E. Riecke and a squad of officers Sunday night and lodged in the county jail, where they are held to meet charges of burglary and larceny in connection with the breaking and entering the Daniels' automobile garage at Scottdale, a few days ago, and stealing auto tires and other goods.

The goods taken from the Daniels place were found in possession of the prisoners who confessed to the burglary, according to the officers, following their arrest last night, implicating all in this particular job except Evans, who, it is claimed, participated in other thefts of auto tires and other property from machines, attributed to the gang.

Couple Quarrel; Wife Swallows Poison

MANCHESTER, Mar. 21.—Mrs. Della Hicks-Crawford, 19 years of age, wife of Fred Crawford, 20 years of age, took a large dose of corrosive sublimate at an early hour Sunday morning after a trivial spat, just to get even with him for what he had said to her.

They reside five miles east of Manchester. A physician from here worked with her all day Sunday. Her husband is with her and she says she wants to live.

The physician says that the chances for recovery are against the beautiful young wife. Mrs. Peter Hamilton, mother of Fred Crawford, resides in Manchester.

Mrs. Della Hicks-Crawford is from Portsmouth. Her brother, George Hicks, of 1111 Mill street, and her mother, Mrs. McGowan, of 4 Union street, arrived at the Crawford home Sunday at 5 p. m.

Her father telephoned from Greenup that he will reach her Monday.

PAVING BIDS ARE OPENED

The office of Service Director William Gergens was thronged with contractors Monday afternoon when bids on the improvement of 15 streets and alleys were opened. The streets and alleys on which bids were submitted were Spring Lane, Chillicothe street to N. & W. tracks, Twenty-third street, Sunrise avenue 273 feet west, Twenty-first street, from Sunrise avenue, 80 feet west; Twenty-second street, from Sunrise avenue, 100 feet west; North Waller, from Twenty-second to Twenty-fourth; Twenty-third street, Waller to Sunrise avenue; Twenty-fourth street, Waller to Sunrise avenue; Sunrise avenue, from Kinney's Lane to Twenty-fourth street; Tenth street at the Reer warehouse; York alley, Cole's alley and three other alleys.

The contractors bidding on the work included A. E. Simpson, The S. Monroe & Son company, Harper & Ruel, Kelley Bros. and John A. Grimes, all of this city and W. H. Ringwald & Sons company, of Chillicothe and The Richmond and H. Shaffer company of Columbus.

The Board of Control is expected to canvass the bids and award the contracts within the next day or two.

Injunction Granted In Sewer Controversy

Judge Thomas in Common Pleas Court Monday afternoon following a hearing on the application of the plaintiffs granted a temporary injunction preventing the city of Portsmouth from issuing permits to tap the Earlsham sewer, recently constructed, and from operating the sewer because it is unconnected with any other closed drainage system or any other drainage system that will dispose of slops and other vegetable and animal matter it was designed to carry.

On behalf of the plaintiffs, W. Z. Stephenson and other property owners in the vicinity said that at the point the sewer empties into Lawson's Run discharged matter is carried into a depression or open ditch in Lawson's Run where it remains stationary, becomes stagnant and will create a great stench and develop germs of infection and in general be a menace to health and a nuisance to the community.

It was agreed by representatives of the city, including Solicitor S. A. Skelton, Mayor Gableman and Service Director Gergens that it was a neutral situation and that the plaintiffs were entitled to some relief and offered no resistance to the restraining order.

Similar actions by persons living along Lawson's Run are contemplated. It is said, and out of it all it is felt in many quarters City Council may be moved to take care of the situation by constructing a trunk line sewer from Seventeenth and Mount streets to the Ohio River as recommended by the State Health Department.

Love, Marriage and Motherhood — Women Only

Mrs. Demarest will give her second address to women only, including girls under 15, tomorrow (Tuesday) afternoon at three o'clock at the Bigelow M. E. church. The subject will be "Love, Marriage and Motherhood."

Recalling the large number who were disappointed last week because unable to gain admission to hear her on "The Virgin Mary," those who do not wish to miss this address are urged to come early. Especially does Mrs. Demarest desire that girls of the High School should hear this talk, and mothers are urged to bring their daughters if over 15.

Gun Victim Out Of Danger

At Hempstead hospital Monday it was stated that Hugh Callahan, who was shot in the left side Saturday by Milford Evans following a quarrel they had at the Seymour barn, Fourth and Madison streets, was virtually out of danger.

It is likely that Evans will be arraigned in municipal court Tuesday on a charge of shooting with intent to kill.

It was rumored Monday that negotiations had been opened for the purchase of one of the most desirable corner pieces of property on Chillicothe street, and if they were closed Portsmouth would receive a $100,000 vaudeville and picture house.

Civil War Veteran To Be Commissioner Of Pensions

WASHINGTON, Mar. 21.—President Harding is said to have decided to appoint Washington Gardner, of Albion, Michigan, a former member of the house of representatives, and a union veteran, as commissioner of pensions.

Mr. Gardner served as a private in the 65th Ohio infantry and was severely wounded. From 1890 to 1911 he represented the third Michigan district in congress and he was commander of the Michigan department of the Grand Army of the Republic and in 1913-14 commander in chief of the G. A. R.

ADMITS KIDNAPPING 12-YEAR OLD NIECE

ATHENS, O., Mar. 21.—Frank Reeves, 34 years old, of near Nelsonville, pleaded guilty here today to kidnapping his 12 year old niece, Mary Lowdell, a year ago. He was held under $5,000 bond. They were arrested by local authorities and brought back to Athens from Suffolk, Virginia, last night.

The girl charges that her uncle had repeatedly attacked her. She says that he took her to Virginia a year ago after stealing her away from her home in Hocking county just over the Ohio river. She says he having tied a rope around her waist to prevent her escaping. The sheriff at Suffolk, Va., says he suppressed the story there fearing that Reeves would be lynched.

WANT TO QUIT TOBACCO?

If you want to quit tobacco or use less, get a package of Nicotol tablets from your druggist. You will be surprised how easy it is to quit. Nicotol drives nicotine from your system and kills the craving for tobacco, and the tobacco habit quits you. All druggists are authorized to sell Nicotol and a steel-bound money-back guarantee. If it costs you little to quit and nothing if Nicotol fails.

Note: Ask your druggist what others say about the wonderful power of Nicotol to break the tobacco habit. He knows, and he can be trusted to tell you the full truth.

Bowling Season Ends This Week

This week will be a big one on the Solby Bowling league as the season comes to a close this week-end. The Champs and Tackers are leading in the league race and both are to for first place honors. This week the Champs meet the Messengers, not a weak team, and they will endeavor to win at least one from the Champs. The Tackers clash with the Electrics and although they would like to add more victories to their list the Electrics would gladly let the Tackers have all three games in order to allow them to beat out the Champs.

Saturday night the Stabbers won three from the Office Force which team is trying to beat the record of the Directors it seems by not winning. The Tackers took two out of three from Leather Grippers. The Grippers taking the middle game by a small margin. The scores:

BIGELOW BOYS TO ENJOY HIKE

Boys are anticipating the over night hike this week. We leave the church at eight o'clock Wednesday morning returning Thursday afternoon. Members of Troop 12 or those of the Boys' club over eleven, or other boys of the Sunday School may go.

First class Scouts will be appointed patrol leaders for the trip.

The fourteen mile hike test, free building or other outdoor Scout work can be covered in this trip. We shall camp near McDermott—points of interest being the stone quarries and mill and the Taylor Museum.

REV. C. E. LIBBY.

SUNDAY SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

All former Sunday school records are being broken this year and next Sunday, Easter Sunday, is expected to bring a new high water mark in Sabbath school attendance. The total Sunday was 819 or 436 less than a week ago. The total a year ago on the Sunday previous to Easter was 1397, the increase yesterday being 1794 which indicates that the attendance this year is on the up grade. Several of the schools, First Baptist, Bigelow, First Presbyterian and United Brethren are picking up steadily and most of them are shooting at the 500 mark and over for Easter Sunday. Last week First Baptist had 494 instead of 344.

Pardoned Prisoner Kills Man

ASHLAND, KY., March 21.—John Weinebush, a negro, shot and instantly killed James Johnson, negro, from Lexington, Ky., on the streets here last night. Weinebush had been sentenced 14 years ago for a term of 14 years in prison for killing a negro and was pardoned recently.

Local Man Accused of Peeping

The Irononian of local interest Sunday morning said:

Acting upon complaints made to the police department last night by residents of the vicinity of Sixth and Vernon streets, Chief Messie and Officer Kendall arrested George Blair, of Portsmouth and Joe Bowman, of this city, on suspicion of being the men who excited the women folks of the neighborhood by "peeping" and other suspicious actions.

When the report came to the mayor's office, Chief Messie, Officer Kendall and Officer King, immediately started out in an automobile, being informed that the two men were headed out toward Fourth. At Fourth and Vernon Chief Messie stepped into the car and arrested Blair and Bowman who had just reached the corner. They were at once taken to the neighborhood where it was alleged they were peeping into homes and were identified by several women as the guilty persons.

The men were locked up to await a hearing.

PEEBLES

A basketball team representing the Portsmouth Business College came to Peebles Monday evening and played the Portsmouth High School Pirates, losing to the local team by the score of 22 to 21. The contest was very exciting and was witnessed by a large attendance. The teams organized from the grades of the village schools have been playing some interesting games on the open court school grounds. The 5th and 6th grades defeated the 7th and 8th grades in a game on Tuesday evening in the close score of 22 to 10. The Sophomore team lost a game to the Seaman Sophomores on the latter's court, Friday evening; score, 27 to 6.

Mellotone for Restful Rooms

No matter how comfortable the chairs, a room can be only as restful as its walls.

Restful walls are walls that are never noticed. They don't intrude. You may have restful walls by painting them with Lowe Brothers Mellotone.

It's a flat velvety wall paint that comes in a variety of soft colors; each soft as the rainbow tints. We have a new booklet you'll find interesting.

SCOUTS ARE OFF ON REAL TRIP

Punctually on time, fourteen Scouts under the care of Scout Executive Gillman, their packs carefully inspected, with whistles and yells of delight, set off from the Scout headquarters for the upper ferry. Each one had a half a tent given him by the Scout Executive before they started.

They will follow the Tygart creek road camping about twelve miles from Portsmouth tonight and reaching Carter Caves tomorrow night. Scout Executive Gillman will be with them throughout the entire trip.

The name of the Scouts who are on the hike are: E. H. Knowles, Tom Knowles, Chas. Sivo, Le Roy Arnold, Harold Koerner, Richard Horns, Homer Mickelwait, Earl Maslow and Frederick Lauffer all of Troop 5; Gilbert Fuller and Richard Fuller of Troop 1; Edw. Gillman of Troop 8; Jerry Muller of Troop 3, and Geo. Fuller of Troop 2.

There will be another hike, an overnight hike for all Scouts who wish to go, on Tuesday. Uniforms will not be required. The hike will be in charge of Mr. Johnson. Scouts must each bring two blankets and food for two days, as they will not get back till late Wednesday afternoon.

Meet on Tuesday morning at 8:30 at Room 75 First National Bank Building. All Scouts invited.

Signal Man Gained 10 Lbs. On 2 Bottles

"I have just finished my second bottle of Taulac and have gained ten pounds," was the emphatic statement of J. E. Mower, 157 Park St., Akron, O., well known signal repair man on the Pennsylvania R. R.

"My stomach was in such a bad fix that for several days at a time I could hardly retain my food. I had no appetite and the very sight of food made me sick. I was intensely nervous, could not rest at night, felt tired and worn out all the time, had lost weight and strength until I was almost a wreck."

"But Taulac has made me feel like a different man. My appetite is enormous and I haven't a sign of indigestion. The only trouble I have now is in getting enough to eat. In fact I never felt stronger and better in my life than now. Taulac certainly does the work."

Taulac is sold in Portsmouth by the Fisher and Stretch pharmacy and by the leading druggists in every town.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "fogy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

Starts Row In Home, Gun Fired; Arrest Made

When W. H. Brumfield, aged 25 years, went to his home at 1210 Coles alley shortly before Sunday midnight and found Ernie Delbotal and several other persons there, he started a row, it is claimed, and during the scuffle which ensued a shot was fired from a revolver in the hands of Brumfield, it is alleged.

Attracted to the scene by the shot the police made an investigation of the trouble and it resulted in the arrest of Brumfield on a charge of discharging firearms within the city limits. He obtained his release on bond pending his hearing in Municipal court.

Delbotal is a well known steelworker and recently returned from the East, where he was employed in a steel plant.

If you want to insure your car, or property of any kind, we would be pleased to do it for you. Office open evenings from 6 to 9 o'clock.

MODEL GIRL SCOUT TROOPS ORGANIZED

The appointment of Mrs. Robert Paden as Troop Leader of the Campbell Ave. School Girl Scouts complete the organization of that Troop. Other troops have many elements of success in them, as enthusiastic membership, well trained patrol leaders and good attainment of the part of the Scouts, but because of inability to obtain young women as Troop Leaders no troop has yet fully completed its organization.

SWEAR OFF TOBACCO

"No-To-Bac" has helped thousands to break the costly, nerve-shattering tobacco habit. Whenever you have a longing for a cigarette, cigar, pipe, or for a chew, just place a harmless No-To-Bac tablet in your mouth instead, to help relieve that awful desire. Shortly the habit may be completely broken, and you are better off—mentally, physically, financially. It's so easy, so simple. Get a box of No-To-Bac and if it doesn't release you from all craving for tobacco in any form, your druggist will refund your money without question.

Lunacy Charge

E. Myers, of Milldale Road, New Boston, was taken in charge by New Boston officers Sunday evening on a lunacy charge. Complaint was made by the woman in charge of the boarding and rooming house, where Myers has been making his home. Sunday he took a change for the worse, the officers being called to take charge of Myers. He will be given a hearing before Probate Judge N. B. Gilliland.

Speeder Caught

Grover Wilson was the name given by a man arrested Sunday on Gallia pike near the water works filtration plant by Traffic Officer Ray Buckley, of New Boston. He claims Wilson was making 40 miles an hour on a crowded pike. The autoist posted a $5 bond for his appearance tonight at 7 o'clock before Mayor J. S. Davis.

Youth On Trial For Murder Of Detectives

TOLEDO, O., March 21.—Edward Foley, alias Hughes Foley, 18 years old, of Omaha, and Denver, who police say confessed to taking part in a hold-up and robbery of a New York Central Railway ticket agent, and the shooting to death of two railroad detectives, was placed on trial today in county court.

Foley is charged with the murder of Louis Schroeder, one of the detectives. The other man killed was O. E. Long, foyee Richardson, negro, now in the Ohio penitentiary awaiting infliction of the death penalty after having been convicted of slaying Schroeder.

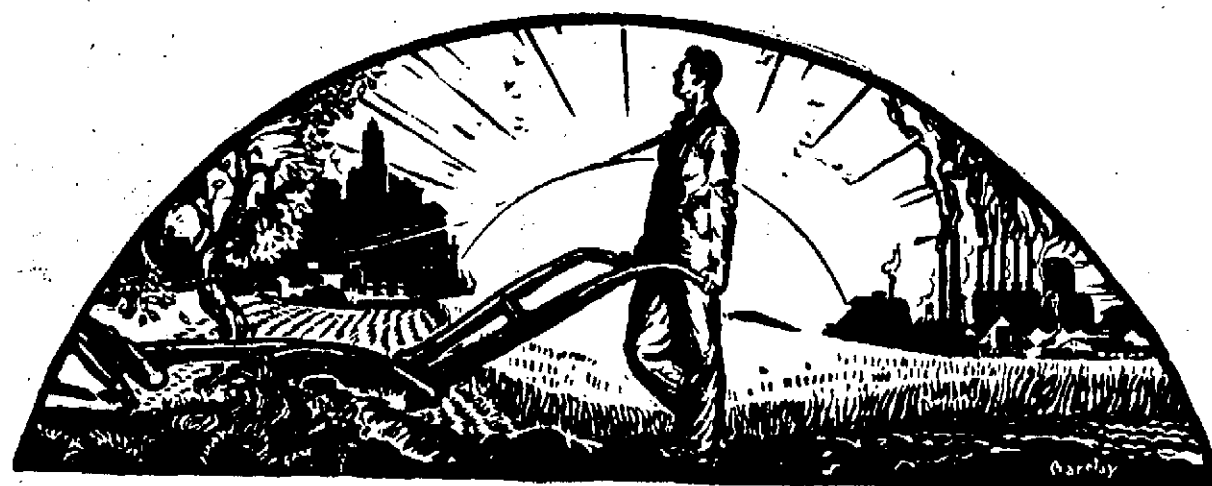

On January 17, last, Austin Breed, a ticket agent and the two company officers were on their way from the Union Station to a down town bank more than a mile distant. Near the railroad station an automobile, carrying five armed men crowded the car occupied by Breed, Schroeder and Long into the curb, at the same time opening fire on the occupants. Schroeder and Long were killed almost instantly. The ticket agent escaped unharm. The bandits got away with more than $15,000. Of the five alleged robbers, Richardson and Foley were the only ones to be caught.

This is the First Day of Spring

Today, March 21st, is the first day of Spring—the day that everybody has agreed upon as the time when "business will open up." Business is here. It starts from now. It should be greater every day.

Industry is awakening. On all sides you see the evidences of this. In every newspaper you read of resumption of work.

Back to normal! It is a cheering thought. Employer, employee, dealer and customer are glad of it.

Out in the country the crops are being put in as of old. Mother Nature never takes a vacation. She is swinging into her spring work, making the seeds sprout and the crops grow. The food of the world is going to be produced. The foundation of all prosperity exists as it always did.

Business is here. It is ready at your hand. It is not something to be waited for, not something to be wished for. It is.

The first day of spring is a splendid starting point. Winter, with all its handicaps and disappointments, is behind, and can be forgotten. Ahead of us all are days that grow better and better, days when work will count more and more, when mutual understanding and helpfulness will bring their lasting benefits. The roads are getting better, the shops are showing the new things, people are putting money into circulation. Your dollar, paid out for a necessity, does not stop working. It keeps going on and on—increasing the volume of business.

"Good times" are coming back with the sunshine and the flowers, with the humming of machinery and the song of the whistles. The hour for moping and complaining has gone; the time for hustling and prospering is with us.

In the automotive industry the news is encouraging. Passenger car and truck manufacturers are welcoming the first day of spring with increased activities to satisfy the coming demand.

And here in the Goodrich plant the opening of spring finds us ready to serve our old and new customers through the Goodrich dealers in the efficient manner that has characterized our organization for fifty years.

It is the first day of spring—the dawn of the good business era for us all.

Rotarians To Discuss Treatment And Care Of Crippled Children

CLEVELAND, O., March 21.—Rotarians from all over Ohio were here for the opening today of the annual state convention. The treatment and education of crippled children will be the chief subject before the two days session. More than one thousand Rotarians are expected to attend.

The conference was called to order by Stanley Sanford, president of the Cleveland Rotarian Club. Samuel H. Squires, of Elkhart, district governor, responded to the address of welcome.

A playlet by "Rotary's Crippled Children of Ohio" was on the afternoon program. An open discussion in which rotarians will develop their

Don't hide skin trouble—heat it with Resinol

No amount of cosmetics can conceal an ugly skin. They only fill in the pores and make the condition worse. Resinol Soap cleanses the pores, giving them a chance to breathe and throw off impurities. This is why when used with Resinol Ointment it rids the skin of embarrassing defects, keeping it so clear and fresh it can hardly help being beautiful. At all druggists.

Reorganization Bill May See Rough Sledding

COLUMBUS, O., March 21.—Governor Davis' administrative code for reorganization of the state departments will be the center of interest in the state legislature this week following convening of both houses late today.

Passed by the house last week, the reorganization measure is expected to be taken in its preliminary phases by the senate early on the week's program. The first step will probably be a caucus of senate Republicans to get the line-up on the bill. There is said to be considerable sentiment against passing it as an emergency measure.

The biennial appropriation bill, carrying appropriations aggregating more than $34,000,000, also will be taken up to the upper house during the week.

Taxation will be the chief problem before the house. With the uniform intro advocates' program practically wrecked last week, attention will be turned to the plan of Governor Davis' citizens' tax committee, which calls for submission of a constitutional amendment abolishing the uniform rule, establishment of an income tax law and other new forms of raising revenue.

Is Improving

The condition of Joe Holsinger, a well known steel worker, who has been alarmingly ill at his home at Nauvoo for several days, with a severe attack of pneumonia, was reported considerably improved Monday.

Mrs. Alfred Simpson of the Coverston Flats, in the East End, is ill, threatened with pneumonia.

Youth Charged With Larceny

Forrest Brown, 15, youth living at 2019 Sixth street was arrested at his home early Monday morning by the police on a charge of larceny, in connection with the alleged theft of a watch, ring and breast-pin from Mrs. J. Baer, who lives at the rear of 1801 Fifth street.

The lad was locked up at the city prison, where he is held for the juvenile court.

Road Bad Only In One Spot

Local motorists going to Ironton Sunday say the only bad road they encountered in reaching that city, was between the Wizard Oil bridge and Franklin Furnace. They found the road from the Lawrence county line into Ironton in fine shape and made splendid time. They claim there is no need of taking a detour to reach Ironton.

SPRING OFFICIALLY USHERED IN TODAY

Spring "has come". It was ushered in today and was an extremely warm day for March.

In fact the past week was one of the warmest for March in the history of the local weather bureau.

Will Rheumatism Again Bind You Hand And Foot?

There are thousands of victims of rheumatism who dread the approach of damp wintry weather, for it means to them a return of the pangs of rheumatism.

If you had rheumatism last year and treated only the pains of the disease by rubbing with liniments and lotions, you can be sure that soon again you will be in the shackles of this relentless foe. You may get some slight temporary relief from the pangs of the disease by the use of these local remedies, but rheumatism is too real and relentless a disease to be rubbed away. If you wish to break the shackles of the disease, and free yourself from its domination, you must treat the source of the disease.

So many cases of Rheumatism come from a tiny germ in the blood, that you should try a remedy that has proven so thoroughly satisfactory in these cases. S. S. S., the fine old blood remedy, cleanses the blood of all impurities, and removes all disease germs that may creep into the blood. Begin taking S. S. S. today, and if you will write a complete history of your case, our medical director will give you expert advice, without charge. Address Chief Medical Adviser, S. S. S. # Something New! W. B. "Stylish-Slender" Corsets

"Freedom, Comfort, Ease in Every Position!"
for the Woman of Slender or Average Figure

The new W. B. "Stylish-Slender" Corset marks an achievement in the art of corset making! It guarantees the woman of slender or average figure, absolute comfort at the diaphragm, total freedom from "digging in" at the front, unrestricted breathing, perfect "give" to every action, and of course, an exquisitely stylish appearance.

It cannot dig at the waist because the steels are shortened. It cannot bind because the front is of elastic. It cannot hurt over the hips because there are no bones there to hurt. Yet it is a corset, giving to the figure the physical support and style effect of a corset, with perfect ease.

You will be captivated with the slim, smart lines this corset gives your figure.

Milk Bottle Thief Is Caught

Caught in the act, the police say, of purloining money from milk bottles a man who registered as Jack Davis, aged 22 years, was taken into custody shortly after one o'clock Monday morning on Sixth street, near Washington by Patrolman Noah Payne.

The sum of $1.83 was found in the pockets of the prisoner when he was searched at the police station and he admitted $1.18 of the money was taken from milk bottles, it is claimed. The theft of money from milk bottles has given the police much concern the past few days and the vigilance of the officers led to Davis being caught red-handed. He was locked up at the city bastille on a formal charge of petit larceny.

Respect your father's opinion for a year or two. That will give your father time to see that you are right or will give you time to see that your father is right.

Dear Miss Wise—I am twenty years old and in love with a man several years my senior. We have been keeping company for some time. We are both deeply in love, but at times he seems to be quarrelsome. When we are out in a crowd he says things which hurt my feelings. We are not friendly at the present time. Should I call him up or will it be more proper for me to wait until I hear from him? Should I waste my time in keeping company with this gentleman when he acts this way?

XANTHIPPE BRUNETTE.
Wait until you hear from him. Since the man makes you unhappy by unkind remarks you will be happier in the end if he does not come back. Girls should realize that a man who is unkind before marriage is doubly so afterward.

Dear Miss Wise—As the time draws near for putting down eggs, will you please tell me how to preserve them as I have never done it before?

HOUSEWIFE.
To three gallons of rain water add one pint of coarse salt and one pint of unstacked lime. Put all in a jar in which you wish to keep the eggs; allow to dissolve, stirring occasionally for three days. Then it is ready for the eggs, either all at once or as you wish to get them. This is a sure way to keep eggs for winter use. Keep jar in cellar; cover to keep dark.

BILLY WILKES

Sheep, hearing Violet pleading with Billy, with a hint of tears in her voice, at once came to the rescue by again grabbing Mr. Billy's tail, and this time she gave it a good big squeeze between his sharp teeth, so that Master Billy got over the fence in a hurry, leaving Violet and Sheep on the other side. When once over, he went straight for his shed in the barnyard, at least that is where he intended to go, but as he passed the wagon house on his way John stepped out unexpectedly, caught hold of the dragging halter, and all was up with saying, "Be careful, John, and do not get soap into his eyes." "He had better keep them shut then. Even if I do it will only teach him a lesson not to run away again." "But, John, don't do it, for I know he is sorry now. Aren't you, Billy?" "Juh, and say you are," said the tender-hearted Violet, who could not bear to see anything suffer.

When John had scrubbed him until he was as white as snow, he filled bucket after bucket of water and threw over him until all the suds were thoroughly washed off and the ends of his long hair were curling in little ringlets. When finished, he was led out and tied to a post in the sun so he would dry quickly before he could lie down and get himself dirty again. At another post only a short distance away lay Nannie, looking too sweet and clean for anything, with her big blue eyes and her pink nose peeping out of a curly white coat as clean as Billy's.

Violet went to the garden and picked several heads of fresh, young lettuce, which she fed to the goats, and by the time Billy's coat was dry and he had eaten the lettuce, he felt in a better frame of mind, and allowed himself to be hitched to the new cart, with the gold harness buckles flashing in the sunlight and Violet seated on the little cushioned seat, clad in a white dress and wearing a hat trimmed with scarlet poppies.

They were the envy of many children and the admiration of the grown-up people, as they drove down the village street, for the entire turnout was as handsome as anyone could wish to see.

Her Own Career

(BY PHYLLIS PHILLIPS)

THE BITTER FRUIT
"Never mind, dear, never mind," said Gwendolyn soothingly, as she saw the look of a hunted animal come into her cousin's face. "It's all over now, and you're back again with your own Gwendolyn, and there's nothing that can possibly bother you any more."

Her lips tightened grimly, however, as she mentally relegated Manuel and all his tribe to their proper regions.

"Let me finish my story," said Fern, her voice hardening and one fist clenching as she continued.

"Everything was ideally lovely all the way down to Rio, and my every whim was law. He knows well how to get the sweetest and best from a woman. He fascinated me to his liking. And I was so happy and glad in his love that I thought there never could be a cessation of that love. Poor, foolish little me!"

"If I hadn't been so blindly trusting I might have seen and known that even on the boat, at the end of the second week, my lover was interested in and flirting with a woman from Rio. This I discovered afterward. At the time my eyes were veiled with the rose-colored mists of love. I never dreamed

Mrs. Ireland Permits us to Publish this Letter for the Benefit of Others Who Are in Her Condition

Warsaw, Missouri.—"For five years I was weakly, nervous and in a terrible condition. Then I had a nervous breakdown and doctors said I would never be well again. After I took seven bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was healthier, stronger and felt better than I ever did in my life before. I can't praise the Compound enough and will recommend it to all women. You may publish this letter if you think it will help others."—Mrs. FLOYD IRELAND, R. R. 1, Warsaw, Mo.

Nervous women are both ailing and wretched, and with a nervous breakdown all joy goes out of a woman's life. It is said that the pills peculiar to women act on the nerves like a fire-bomb.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is successful in overcoming such conditions, and a large number of American women who were once great sufferers from nerve troubles owe their present health and comfort to it and it contains no narcotics or harmful drugs.

Va., has been transferred to Clare, Ohio, where he will act as roundhouse foreman for the company at that place. Owing to the recent serious illness of his wife, she will be unable to join Mr. Shaw for some time.

Do This Then see if your friends notice prettier teeth

Make this pleasant ten-day test. See what it does for your teeth. Then judge for yourself—by the clear results—how much this method means.

Millions of people have thus found a way to whiter, cleaner, safer teeth. And you will also find it.

It fights film

This method combats the film on teeth—that viscous coat you feel. Film is the teeth's great enemy. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays.

Brushing in the old ways does not do this. And most tooth troubles are caused by what is left.

Film absorbs stains, making the teeth look dingy. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Very few people have escaped these troubles caused by film.

Two new methods

Dental science has now found two methods to fight film. Many careful tests have proved their efficiency. Leading dentists everywhere now advise their daily use.

The methods are embodied in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. Other factors, now considered essential, are included with it.

Pepsodent combats the film with every application. It keeps teeth highly polished, so film less easily adheres.

It also stimulates the salivary flow. That is Nature's great tooth-protecting agent. It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva, to digest starch deposits which so often clog and form acid. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva, to neutralize the acids which cause tooth decay.

Thus every use brings five desired effects which old methods failed to bring.

The modern way

Pepsodent is based on modern research. It does what authorities now regard as essential. Half the world over it is displacing old methods, largely by dental advice.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

WANT TO QUIT TOBACCO?

If you want to quit tobacco or to use less, get a package of Nicotol tablets from your druggist. You will be surprised how easy it is to quit. Nicotol drives nicotine from your system and breaks the habit of smoking, and the tobacco habit quits you. All druggists are authorized to sell Nicotol under a steel-bound money-back guarantee. So it costs you little to quit and nothing if Nicotol fails.

Note: Ask your druggist what others say about the wonderful power of Nicotol to break the tobacco habit. He knows, and he can be trusted to tell you the full truth.

Keep in Good Physical Condition

Effects of Germs

SAFETY IN RICH RED BLOOD
Gude's Pepto-Mangan Builds Vigorous Blood. Recommended by Physicians for Thirty Years as a Reliable Blood Tonic

A great many people, working hard every day, get in a run-down condition without realizing it. They have days and sometimes weeks when they do not feel just right, and they worry along, thinking that they will soon be in good shape again. It is true that they are not really ill. But when the system is run-down it is usually due to weak blood. When you overdo and go through exertion, lose sleep and catch cold easily, the system gets run down, so that when an epidemic comes along germs have an easy time of it.

If you do not feel up to normal, if you are all tired out for a while and notice the difference. It makes rich red blood, tones the system up so that you feel like getting things done. Your appetite comes back, you eat heartily and if there is nothing vitally wrong, you will be yourself again. You will be up and doing and you will get exercise and fresh air and plenty of sleep.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan is put up in both liquid and tablet form and is sold by druggists everywhere. The liquid and tablets have exactly the same medicinal value. Buy whichever you prefer and be sure it is genuine "Gude's Pepto-Mangan." The name "Gude's" is on the package.—adv.

Davis, Packers And Employees In Conference
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 21.—Spokesmen for the packers' employees presented their side of the dispute with their employers over wages and working conditions at a conference early today with Secretary Davis at the department of labor. This preceded the joint conference at which Secretaries Hoover, of the department of commerce, and Wallace, of the department of agriculture, sat with the labor secretary.

The representatives of the packers were heard by Mr. Davis last week and before going formally into the matter in an effort to arrive at some satisfactory adjustment, Mr. Davis gave the workers' spokesmen an opportunity to present their case.

Secretary Davis said he planned to call freely upon Secretaries Hoover and Wallace for advice.

"If a question arises that relates to conditions in Europe," he said, "I will call upon Secretary Hoover's knowledge of those conditions. On questions regarding the stock industry I will ask Secretary Wallace's advice."

Besides the three cabinet officers, those attending the conference were James L. Condon and Carl Meyer for the packers; Dennis Lane and Redmonds Brennan for the employees; and Hugh L. Krawin, E. P. Marsh and Howell Davis, members of the conciliation division of the department of labor, who participated in the extension in 1919 of the Alschuler agreement of 1917.

Freight Rates, Big Issue

Wrapped up in the whole situation is the question of freight rates. The Harding administration cannot put an embargo on foreign goods and expect that alone to relieve the farmer for markets abroad must be found. To ship from interior points to the seaboard at the present scale of freight rates is almost prohibitive. While the levels below the 1914 prices, the freight rates remain the same. The state of Iowa, for example, might as well be three hundred miles further west so far as freight rates today are concerned.

To lower the freight rates the railroads say they must bring about wage reductions. They are trying to bring that about now. The Harding administration will resort to emergency measures like the embargo or temporary tariff bills but the drive against high freight rates is coming too. The purchasing power of the farmer has diminished. The eastern manufacturers fear retaliation if America begins the embargo process and interferes with the only opportunity foreign people have of marketing their goods. The certainty of a great struggle between the interests of the west and south as opposed to the east is no longer denied in official quarters. For the moment the farmers have the upper hand and measures for relief are in the making.

The Girl Scouts of the Baptist church will meet in the church basement Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Rome Arthur and children of Kinney's Lane were the dinner guests yesterday of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Lochbaum of Grace street.

Mrs. Louis Sizemore and Mrs. Wm. Brown spent Sunday with Mrs. James Shamp of North Moreland addition.

Mrs. J. H. Spencer of Stanton avenue was the dinner guest yesterday of Mrs. John Henry of Gallia avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. John Caudley and son, Kenneth, Mr. and Mrs. Eslo Caudley and daughter Agnes and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allbaugh called on Mr. and Mrs. James Clark of Ninth street Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Huns, Mrs. Nancy Dawson and granddaughter, Garnet Birlie and John Hoover, agricultural policy.

The significant thing that stands out in the events of the last two days is that agriculture has forced its way to the front and that the Harding administration which pledged itself to help the farmer is trying to make good that pledge.

Henry Wallace, secretary of agriculture, and for years editor of an agricultural journal of wide influence among the farmers, is in favor of an emergency tariff law such as was proposed at the last session of Congress and is behind a great many other things of vital need to the farmer. He was an influential adviser in the last campaign and it looks as if he will be the guiding hand in the Harding agricultural policy.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Mar. 21.—On the stock exchange today trading began with a resumption of the recent uncertain movement. Mexican Petroleum was the most conspicuous feature, falling two points in the first few transactions on selling attributed to latest industrial advances from across the Rio Grande. Atlantic Gulf opened with a fractional gain, but immediately reacted 1 1/2 points and rails were disposed to ease. Firmness was shown by General Asphalt, American Tobacco, Caudill Steel, American Linsed, Pierce Arrow, and International Paper. Preliminary quotations for exchange on London were moderately higher.

Automobile shares and rubber specialties represented the constructive side of the market during the morning, but rails and steels and equipments weakened. New York Central and Reading were especially reactionary. Gains of 1 to 2 1/2 points accompanied the buying of Chandler, Studebaker, Maxwell, Pierce-Arrow and International Motors, also Kelly-Springfield Tire and Stromberg Carburator. Pools furnished the momentum in American International General Asphalt, American Woolen, Industrial Alcohol, and Central Leather at gains of 1 to 3 1/2 points and oils recovered part of their reversal. Call money opened at 6 1/2 percent, the lowest initial rate in many weeks, and private loans were again negotiated at 8 and 9 1/2 percent.

Trading in the stock market today was again largely professional and speculative. Moderate advances in motors and affiliated issues were offset by irregular reactions elsewhere. Sales approximated 700,000 shares. The closing was heavy.

Ash Leads in Tennis.

Good tennis rackets require choice woods. Strength is furnished by the bentwood iron or bow, which is usually ash or hickory, says the American Forestry Magazine of Washington. Elm is serviceable but its appearance is not regarded as equal to that of hickory or ash, and appearance counts for much.

Poison Obtained From Dead.

The favorite poison used by the Australian bushmen in warfare is obtained from certain portions of a pretrefring corpse. It is said that a man wounded with a war-shaft poisoned with this awful venom dies of lock-jaw almost immediately.

OBITUARY

Dr. Fetter's Funeral

Funeral services for Dr. Samuel Prichard Fetter, held at his late home, Ashland, Kentucky, Sunday afternoon, were attended by almost the entire population of Ashland, while hundreds of sorrowing friends from Eastern Kentucky and Southern Ohio were also present to pay their last respects to the man who had come to occupy such a warm place in their affections. The large Fetter mansion, on Bath avenue, where the funeral was held, was crowded with close relatives and friends of the deceased and of the family, while the route to the cemetery was lined with people, both on foot and in autos. At the cemetery several thousand people had gathered to witness the farewell services at the grave. The immensity of the gathering was a most impressive tribute to the big place Dr. Fetter had come to occupy in the hearts and affections of the citizens of his adopted home. An especially touching feature of the gathering was the presence of the leader of the Ashland Salvation Army, his assistants and congregation. Dr. Fetter had been a devoted friend of the Army and had arranged for the means to erect a new home for the Army, which is now nearing completion. The Army Captain was one of the pall-bearers.

The presence of a large escort from Calvary Commandery, Knights Templar, Portsmouth, in full uniform, was a thoughtful and much appreciated tribute from the great order at Dr. Fetter's former home. At the cemetery the Sir Knights formed a lane through which the funeral party passed to the tomb, where final services were held. The Knights standing at attention, all the while.

A beautiful and impressive touch to the funeral service was given by the immense number of floral tributes. They came from all parts of Ohio, Kentucky, West Virginia and elsewhere, giving another striking indication of the esteem in which the deceased was held. The greater part of one room was banked with flowers.

The services were conducted by Rev. W. H. Hampton, rector of Calvary Episcopal church, Ashland, of which Dr. Fetter was a vestryman, assisted by Rev. Paul Powell, pastor of the First M. E. Church, South of Ashland, and Rev. H. G. Sowards, pastor of the Mayo Memorial church, Palmyra, Ky. Favorite songs of Dr. Fetter were rendered by the Ashland Rotary Club quartette. The Episcopal service for the dead was read by Rev. Mr. Hampton. Prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Powell, and a touching tribute to the life and character of the Christian gentleman who had "crossed over," was paid by Rev. Mr. Sowards.

At the conclusion of the services at the home, the relatives and friends followed the remains to a beautiful spot in the pretty Ashland cemetery where the concluding rites of the Episcopal church were conducted by Rev. Mr. Hampton and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Mr. Powell.

Members of Calvary Commandery No. 13, Knights Templar, who acted as escort at the funeral, consisted of William and George Zottman, Henry Scott, W. D. Hoss, E. Clean Duis, H. M. Baker, D. A. Grimes, John A. Ives, John Jones, Alan S. Jordan, Albert Marting, Albert Zoellner, Carl Windle of this city and S. C. Cotes Peebles, George McClure and A. T. B. Soumerville of Ashland, who belong to the local Commandery.

Among other Ohio friends in attendance at the funeral were Dr. George Kinison, superintendent of the Ohio Hospital For Epileptics at Gallopolis, Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Taylor of Portsmouth, and Mr. Fred Radburn of Columbus. A large number of prominent business and professional men from Eastern and Central Kentucky were also present.

Mrs. Isabelle Caroline McDaniel, born June 15, 1843, died Saturday night, March 19, 1921, about nine o'clock, at the home of her son, W. C. McDaniel, Rushtown.

Mrs. McDaniel was born in North Carolina and moved from there to Illinois with her father's family. At the age of twelve years she entered the Kirkendall family and moved with that family to Rushtown. She resided with them until she was united in marriage to John L. McDaniel. To this union were born six children, three of whom have preceded her to the grave. Those surviving are: W. C. McDaniel and Mrs. Nancy Irvin of Rushtown, and Mrs. Ola E. Smith of Knightstown, Ind. She was one of a large family of boys and girls all of whom have passed on except her brother, Francis Barnett, who lives in Texas. Mrs. McDaniel was a member of the Bethany Baptist church at Rushtown. Funeral services were held at the church Monday afternoon at one o'clock, with Rev. A. K. Murphy in charge. Burial was in Rushtown cemetery.

Mrs. Mershon Funeral.

Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth Rose Richter Mershon, who passed away Friday afternoon, were held from the home, 524 Fifth street Monday afternoon at two o'clock, followed by services at the Central Presbyterian church, of which she was a faithful member, at 2:30. Rev. Bliss B. Cartwright in charge. Interment in Greenlawn.

Cranberry Funeral.

The funeral of Jack Cranberry, who passed away at the home at Mount Carmel, three miles from Minford, Friday was held at two o'clock Sunday afternoon at Mount Carmel church with burial in the cemetery there.

Davis Funeral Today.

Funeral services for the late Eugene Davis were conducted Sunday afternoon from the home of his brother, Harry Davis, of South Catlettsburg. Interment was in the Williams cemetery near there.

Poles, former residents of the district, who were entitled to cast their ballots. It is not known how large a number of Poles were thus enabled to vote at yesterday's election, but it is estimated that not less than 140,000 Germans entered upper Silesia for the casting of their ballots, special trains for them being provided by the German government.

Allied troops sent to the district were distributed throughout the area at suitable points to insure order and the proper conduct of the balloting.

Reports that 30,000 Polish troops were marching toward the border have been current here. A motor trip along the Polish frontier showed the presence of the usual Polish sentries, but there were virtually no eutene troops on the Silesian side of the border. It might be possible that a number of troops or civilians could suddenly cross without meeting with serious interference. The balloting yesterday was virtually over by mid-afternoon. There was no disorder of a serious nature reported. During his trip through the zone a number of Germans attempted to confiscate the Associated Press correspondent's automobile at Elchenau to take voters to the polls, but the attempt was unsuccessful.

Against Jimmy Doyle the dice of life were loaded.

Once out of jail he swore to go straight and care for the daughter of his old gang-leader.

The "coops" had him labelled as the slickest, coolest, slipperiest and best-looking jewel thief that ever rubbed sandpaper on his fingers. The "bulls" sought the woman if they "framed" him now, Jimmy threatened death to the chief bull-hound.

They did "frame" him! And at the climax second, when Jimmy had the detective, with his life depending on Jimmy's steady hand, Jimmy did the unexpected.

"Dice of Destiny" is a romance flavored with dippy-clip action. It's one surprise after another and a suspense like the first roll of the dice.

We unqualifiedly say that this super-drama is the most thrilling, peppy, merry and speedy feature H. B. Warner ever played in.

You will second the motion.

OUTSIDE the LAW

Priscilla Dean
LON CHANEY
starring the heroine of The Virgin of Sambo

For Two Days, Starting Tonight, the Exhibit Theatre Offers Priscilla Dean and Lon Chaney in "Outside the Law," the World's Greatest Melodrama—The Biggest Action Picture the Screen Has Ever Known—S Lightning Acts—Also a Comedy Feature.

The crook dramas of recent years that are really great, may be counted upon the fingers of one hand or named with one breath. But a place among them is carved by the most story of the underworld. It is "Outside the Law," a film feature written and produced by Tod Browning, in which Priscilla Dean is starring on the screen of the Exhibit tonight.

The struggle of crooks to go straight is an old theme—but the struggle of Silky Moll and Dapper Bill Ballard to live their own lives, is a part, but not the theme, of Tod Browning's picture. It is merely the dramatic skeleton that sustains the comedy flesh of human heart drama in which Miss Dean and Lon Chaney and Wheeler Oakman are the principals.

The real theme runs through the story like the undercurrent of a mysterious river. It is the passing of an old Chinese philosopher for his ideals—principles of right and wrong; that are fundamental and not sections and paragraphs from quibbling statute books. In his Oriental devotion to what is right, B. A. Warren shows the Chinese dealing a justice "outside the law."

Lincoln Tonight, Dandy Program. With "Truth Will Prevail," as the Feature. A Feature With a Moral Appeal. "The Farm Yard Follies" Sunshine Comedy.

For tonight Manager McConnell has a special feature production entitled "Truth Will Prevail." This is a five part feature with a moral appeal that should appeal to each and every one. The pictures tell a wonderful story and it is presented in such a way that it cannot fail to reach the heart of every one who witnesses its presentation on the silver sheet. Besides this one big feature there will be a dandy comedy scream, "Farm Yard Follies," a real fess.

Against Jimmy Doyle the dice of life were loaded.

Once out of jail he swore to go straight and care for the daughter of his old gang-leader.

The "coops" had him labelled as the slickest, coolest, slipperiest and best-looking jewel thief that ever rubbed sandpaper on his fingers. The "bulls" sought the woman if they "framed" him now, Jimmy threatened death to the chief bull-hound.

They did "frame" him! And at the climax second, when Jimmy had the detective, with his life depending on Jimmy's steady hand, Jimmy did the unexpected.

"Dice of Destiny" is a romance flavored with dippy-clip action. It's one surprise after another and a suspense like the first roll of the dice.

We unqualifiedly say that this super-drama is the most thrilling, peppy, merry and speedy feature H. B. Warner ever played in.

You will second the motion.

What Is Worth While?

What do you do with your time?

The man who wastes time is a greater spendthrift than he who wastes money, for the latter can be earned again. Time spent is gone forever.

Read these remarks by the Vancouver, B. C. Daily Sun: "Amusement lessens nerve strain and promotes forgetfulness of undesirable conditions, but it is not constructive, and what is imperatively needed is reconstruction of the public attitude toward the problems of life. The need is mental and spiritual. The requisite food is the bread of Life."

And the Vancouver Sun is not a "religious" paper.

On what is it worth our while to spend time? Is church-going one of these worth while things? Many men of prominence in this community and the nation say it is. Last Saturday the banks of Portsmouth joined in an invitation — not to deposit dollars in their strong boxes — but to go to church! The event may mean much in the lives of young men and women who have been attracted by the apparent success of banks, and their position in the community.

Strong characters come by slow development and engagement in upbuilding enterprises.

If there are special services this week in your church, or any church, it will be to your profit to attend.

COMMUNITY CLUB GIRLS TO ORGANIZE

All the regular members of the Night Gymnastic Club, Business Girls, Community Clubs, The Recreation, and Young Girls Club, and candidates for admission to the clubs also any others interested are expected at a meeting at the Moose Hall, Corner of Washington and Third at 7:00 Monday night.

The object of the meeting is to form an organization of young women interested in recreation for leisure time. The season for basket ball is about over and hikes, camping parties, swimming and outdoor sports will be the thing to plan for; and also an increase of membership.

The Clubs, which have been so successful, under the management of Miss Mary Griffin hope to make the spring and summer even more enjoyable than the winter has been.

Letters From Our Readers

"Daylight Savings" is not only impracticable, but it is impossible. Tell us how any one can save daylight; for a day is nothing more than "a certain length of time" and we all know that time waits for no man. Therefore how can it be saved. It is merely a rose to set to play ball, and subject others to confusion for their sake.

In reality you only go to work an hour earlier, which of course means you are through an hour earlier—then why push the clocks ahead and invite confusion for the sake of a few SAND LOT BALL GAMES. The proper thing to do is to let the male workers go to work earlier so they can be off to time to play their games. How many women are interested in baseball anyway, the majority of them know nothing about it and do not care for our National Sport. Our good friend, the secretary, seems to forget that a great many residents from the outlying rural districts are employed in the local industries, who in order to get to work on time in the "So Called Daylight Regime", have to get up at 4:00 a. m. eastern time, which don't you think is a real hardship on them, for they never stay to see any of the games.

If the "Saving Plan" was as good as its supporters claim—why is it the Time Zones of the U. S. A. are not changed and eastern time put in effect in this vicinity instead of Central Time. Surely the government knows what it is doing by keeping Central Time in the territories so allotted.

Also note statistics are offered to support their "Plan" in favor of the base ball time. It is a well known fact it is just as easy to find as many against it as you can find for it; for we all know there is always as many "cons" as there are "pros", which is the Latin for "for and against."

I also note some 3,000 people were on hand each evening for the games, which is somewhat exaggerating it I believe. But even if this size audience turned it is "due" only to the fact that there is no place else to go. A city the size of ours should be financially able to support a professional team in the minors as it did in years gone by; but either we are going backwards or prefer the Sand Lot Variety.

He further states that by "Daylight Savings" we gain an extra hour in the COOL MORNING—but that is nothing more than "Robbing Peter to Pay Paul", because by so doing we are taking away a very good sleeping hour in the COOL MORNING. With the hot sun heating on the roofs all day it is seldom cool enough to get to sleep before 1:00 a. m. daylight time, which does not leave much time for sleep, which is just as essential to a healthy mind and body as "outdoor recreation."

The only outdoor recreation in this city is baseball. But it is exercise only for those who take part. The people who go to the games, because they cannot go elsewhere, do not get any exercise. So you see anyway you look at it, it is only beneficial to a certain few—who do not show any consideration whatever for others who are also interested in other pleasures. And this coupled with the COOL MORNING HOUR OF SLEEP LOST, tends to decrease instead of increase the capacity of the workers.

The supporters also claim that the extra hour of daylight lets many persons keep their gardens in trim, which is very true. But let's take up both sides and try and find some one in the city who has such a big garden that he cannot handle it in an hour's time, which also is available in the summer evenings on Central Time schedule.

"They also say that in many industrial plants, factory and office workers are forced to work in crowded quarters; often inadequately ventilated and lighted. This is very laughable for this is by no means caused by the "Good old Central Time." Such conditions is a direct result of carelessness on the part of the owners of the companies; and wherever they exist they should be brought to the attention of the State Workshop Inspectors.

We have talked quite a bit of baseball, now let's say something of dancing. For instance a man working on new time, gets up at 5:30 in order to get to work by 6:30, and works till 4 or 5:30; whichever the case may be. If in the evening he wishes to enjoy a dance, operating on Central Time, as they did and will, which means they start at 10:00 p. m. and end at 1:00 a. m. D. T., (Daylight Time), say he gets home about 2:00, which means he has but three and one-half hours left for sleep.

In this respect the D. T. S. are working a big injury on the growing youths of today, because none of them ever get enough sleep in the summer months. People will dance in this city; both young and old and this fact is brought out by the great number held in this city.

Again they say there is no reason why Portsmouth should not have the Daylight Time. Tell me Babe Ruths and Christies, one (1) reason why we should have this time other than to play ball. The very true other nearby cities have adopted this time, but why should we be in the "monkey class" for you know monkey does what monkey sees.

We could write a book on arguments against this kind of moving the clocks ahead, instead of advancing the working hour, but we hesitate for fear our good paper would not publish this. But we wish to thank them for this space allotted our little article, and hope that the ball players will show the rest of the people in this city a little consideration and not try to humiliate us. Anyway they can see they are going to have some opposition and we will back them all we can.

AN AVIATOR'S life is filled with hazards. Yet his risk is not one bit greater than yours when your system is undermined by dangerous constipation. When constipation holds you in its grip, sickness and disease are invited momentarily. You cannot too quickly rid your body of this dread enemy.

You take a physic—yes—but how soon will it act? Time is vital. Germs multiply by millions in a clogged intestinal tract. Old-fashioned, slow-acting laxatives endanger your health. For sure, quick results—take only a water laxative, which will really flush the system.

Physicians everywhere recommend Pluto Water, because it acts promptly. The minerals in Pluto are never-failing. The water helps gently to flush away all impurities. Relief is pleasant, certain, complete.

RARDEN

RARDEN, March 19—Owing to the smallpox epidemic at Rarden, all public gatherings have been tabooed by an order issued by Mayor J. W. Abbott until the epidemic subsides. The order necessitated the calling off of the chess play of the Rarden High School which was to have been staged at the Real Men's Hall Saturday night.

The epidemic is now under control, health authorities say, and from indications there will be no further spread of the malady. No new cases have developed during the past few days and there are only about half as many persons suffering from the disease as there were a week ago.

Constable Rocky Newman has been appointed by Council to enforce quarantine regulations.

William Riley, who lived at Rarden for many years previous to locating at Coffeyville, Kan., nearly two score years ago, died recently at his home there at the age of 83 years, according to advices received by local friends.

Mr. Riley was a civil war veteran and served throughout the great conflict as a member of the famous 50th regiment O. V. I. He prospered after going west and at the time of his death was reputed very wealthy.

Enzo Thompson of Jeffersonville, was called here early in the week by the serious condition of his father, William J. Thompson, who is now reported some better.

Much stock is being subscribed to the Oil-Crown-shale enterprise by local citizens and there is every assurance that this village will be selected as the location of the refining plant to be erected at some point along the N. & W. between Portsmouth and Cincinnati.

American aesthetic taste needs elevating, according to Miss Ruth Reeves, a well known New York costume artist. She believes that it is up to the costume artists and fashion designers to help in the big work of elevating public taste. She is working with this aim and, although she is a portrait and landscape painter, she continues in commercial art work to do her bit towards teaching the public to love things beautiful. At present she is giving lectures to costume designers and a group of designers from Cleveland factories were enthusiastic in their praise of her when she talked to them on "The Practical Application of Ancient Designs in Modern Costumery." They all promised that garments they turned out in the future would be beautiful first.

Treat Mother Nature Gently

By Frederic J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 21.—The trouble with the great army of nature-lovers, who will invade the outdoors as soon as spring is fairly under way, is in greater numbers than ever, is that they want to pull nature up by the roots and take her home. They love nature not wisely, but too strenuously. The American amateur naturalist carries into his pastime that same zest for bringing in the lucre, which characterizes him in business. He does not merely contemplate natural beauty; he gathers it, takes it home, and decorates the parlor with it. He presents it to his girl and his mother. And the result is that many forms of natural beauty are in danger of extermination.

This is the lament of local scientists and women, who are so exercised about this increasing decoration of nature by her numerous lovers that they have taken steps for her protection. They have followed the standard American method of doing this. They have formed a national organization with chapters all over the country, which will issue propaganda. This organization is known as the Wild Flower Preservation Society of America. It sets forth with great emphasis the fact that the hordes of people who invade the woods and fields from April to September are "rapidly" destroying many of the most beautiful flowering plants and leaving only the homely and noxious weeds.

The scientists assert that what threatens is nothing less than a calamity. In Europe, they say, hundreds of the most beautiful varieties of wild flowers have already been completely exterminated, and the same process is going forward rapidly in this country. It requires some historical perspective to realize how much man has changed the face of nature by sheer ruthlessness and waste. The American that Columbus discovered was nothing like the one that we know. It was a land teeming with wild life. It was a land of great forests, hundreds of feet high. Above all, it was a veritable garden of wild flowers. Now much of the wild life has been destroyed and many of the forests have been cut, but much has been done in the way of legislation and propaganda to save the wild creatures and the trees. The condition of both is steadily improving. But because they have little economic value, the wild flowers have received scant attention. As a result, all of the more beautiful varieties are threatened with extinction.

Fame Destroys Flowers

Fame has been the undoing of many wild flowers, as of men. Years ago the fringed gentian was one of the commonest flowers of the North Atlantic region. Then William Cullen Bryant wrote his poem about the fringed gentian. It was a literary sensation of the days when Bryant was at the height of his popularity and power, and most of us have read it in school. The immediate result was that it became fashionable to gather the gentian, with the result that it is now a rare flower and considered a find by naturalists. To see the gentian in its natural profusion you must go to the Rocky Mountains, where a related variety is still abundant in wild places.

The trailing arbutus is another beautiful wild flower that every one has heard about, and which has been celebrated as the "sweetest flower that grows." No nature essay is complete without at least one reference to the trailing arbutus. The result is that this flower is now much more common in literature than it is in nature. In fact, it is extinct all through New England except in a few remote spots. Much of this destruction is wholly inexcusable, the scientists say, because, if merely the flowers were cut off with a knife, the plant would not be injured; but it is usual to take up the whole thing by the roots. As the arbutus propagates itself only by runners, not by seed, this rapidly exterminates it.

The meadow-sweet or ladies' slipper, a native orchid of great beauty, is another American wild flower that is practically extinct. The scientists say. They request that if you should find a specimen of this plant you content yourself with admiring it on the spot. But you are not apt to find one.

Other wild flowers urgently in need of your economy are the cardinal flower, partridge berry, jack-in-the-pulpit, columbine, May-apple, lily, Christmas fern, spring beauty and pond lilies. Special pleas are also made for the dogwood bushes, which are torn to pieces by the hikers every spring, and the holly which they hunt so zealously every winter. Magnolia, laurel and azalea should also be spared. If you must take some flowers from dogwood or magnolia trees, or other shrubs, cut off a few of the twigs cleanly with a pen knife. Do not tear the tree, and do not take large branches. In the case of smaller flowers, do not gather all in sight, but take a few, leaving some for seed. If you want great masses of flowers for decoration purposes, take those that grow in obvious profusion, and are weed pests such as field daisies, black-eyed Susans, and golden-rod. Blue violets are also abundant and hard to exterminate.

Varities of Nature-Lovers

The subject deserves a special importance from the fact that the number of persons who go into the fields and woods for recreation seems to be steadily on the increase. There are many varieties of these back-to-nature enthusiasts. There are the amateur ornithologists who carry field glasses and scrutinize the birds. There are the amateur botanists who carry field manuals and long tin cans strapped over their shoulders. There are sentimental nature lovers who take along mandolins and books of poems, and indulge in music and verse under the greenwood tree. There is an increasing number of free-living couples who have found that springtime and outdoors are more fun as a setting for love than a study reception room.

The great majority of those who go outdoors have no direct interest in either birds or flowers. They do not know a thrush from a fly-catcher, nor would they recognize a fringed gentian if they met one. They do not even know poison ivy and nettle when they see them, with the result that they often carelessly sit on such things to their ultimate grief. They are suspicious of any kind of a bug, however harmless and friendly, and they kill every snake they see in the supreme confidence that they are benefiting the human race.

As a matter of fact the humble garden snake, who is generally the victim, may well be more useful to society than his murderer. These people are mostly hikers and automobilists. It is hard to interest them in protecting the birds and wild flowers because they know nothing about either. Yet these are the very ones who destroy valuable plants. Some bright flowers by the roadside attract them just as a bright object attracts a baby. They get out and gather all in sight. Especially the women. A Sunday in the country is not complete for the average hiker unless she comes back laden with drooping vegetation.

It is to these careless ones that the scientists make their appeal. Take a few flowers, they say, but don't take them all. Cut a twig off a bush if you must, but don't try to take the bush home. Love dear old Mother Nature, but treat her gently.

Life

Some famous force unseen has given life. A hallowed face is giving there. The soul is pierced with blazed knife. Life is our gentle breath of air. Coming: Going. Dreaming: Never knowing. Mystery: Mystery! Mystery!

My hair is getting gray. My head is bending low. But still I hope and pray. To shoot some day a stronger bow. To live but one eternal day.

Try the Nineteenth Hole

The president of the Society of the Permanently and Voluntarily Unemployed had come to the end of his rope and was violating his code by seeking work. "So you want a job," said the keeper of the golf links. "What can you do?" "Well," replied the applicant, judiciously, "I was thinking I might go around and color up the zone-to-seed dandelion so they won't look like golf balls."

Worse and Worse

"No, sir," said the old married man proudly, "my wife isn't given to small talk at all."

"Lord, but you're lucky," ejaculated the newly-wed, who was beginning to find out things about the gentler sex. "Sir, I said small talk."

"I got a tip on a sure thing yesterday."

"Better not trust those sure tips."

"Oh, this one is all right. It's a tip as to what is going to happen if I don't settle up my tax arrears."

Good Advice

"Revenge is sweet."

"I know that, but nobody ever made much success of himself who wasted a lot of time trying to get even with somebody else."

Down on the Farm

"How does Farmer Jones take it now that chlor is illegal?"

"Oh, he takes it hard."

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

By W. G. SIBLEY

The Sibley Service, Gallipoli, Ohio

The Kaiser's Book

The former Kaiser's protestations in his new book that for 30 years he sought to establish peace on the face of the earth are best answered by the fact that during all that period he was busily engaged in building up the most formidable war machine ever developed under any one government.

The Kaiser always believed his personal faith, that he was the chosen instrument of divinity to control the world, and with that obsession was very practical in training his army and his people to an extraordinary degree of efficiency in military preparation to go out and compel other nations to yield to his authority. The German people, he once declared, "will be the rock of granite upon which our Lord God can build and complete his culture in the world." There we had religion with guns for missionaries—quite a variation from the gentle teachings of the Prince of Peace.

"I could find," he said in one of his speeches, "no better token than a sword, this noblest symbol of the Germans." To some of his soldiers in 1914, he said: "Recruits! You have now before the consecrated servant of the Lord, (himself, and before His altar, sworn fealty to me." In 1905 he spoke publicly of a German world empire and of a Hohenzollern world ruler.

His whole career as ruler of Germany was colored and controlled by his purpose to win authority over all mankind by the use of the sword. Now that he has failed in all his fiducious activities it is too late for him to protest that he sought a league of peace and was thwarted by the perfidious machinations of England, France and Russia. His book will receive little credence from a world which has suffered intolerably from his criminal plans and acts to enslave other nations or exterminate them. His place in history is fixed. He will go down through the ages in infamy and universal detestation.

Judge Samson a Bad Example

The junior Rockefeller, who teaches a Sunday School Bible class in a New York Baptist church, blamed that distinguished man of old times for marrying a Philistine, and attributed his subsequent troubles to that unhappy union. It was so brief we can hardly concur in the opinion; especially in view of Samson's character, which ran to physical excesses, indulgences and immorality.

Samson was a sport as well as a Judge of Israel. He drank no wine and patronized no barber. He had a roving eye for pretty women who appeared in his court room. His unfortunate betrothal to a Timnath maiden, who caused him to lose a wager by betraying the secret of his riddle, and his subsequent rash conduct, were a bad start. But we doubt if he would ever have made any woman a good husband.

A judge running after a harlot, stealing the gates of Gaza, and the posts thereof, and carrying them thirteen miles over hilly country, was a prodigious feat of strength, but a sorry exhibition of bad habits and bad thoughts. This, followed by his heart-breaking infatuation for Delilah, and his betrayal of him to his enemies, spoiled his career. With the wrecking of the roof-garden of the Temple of Dagon, the heathen god, his life ended. We may say had women ruined him, but his own foolishness for ill-fated adventure was the true cause of his mis-spent life.

Mr. Rockefeller advised well when he warned his class against hurrying a foreign woman, or one of another religion, or for money or social position. Matrimony is sufficiently uncertain in its outcome under favorable circumstances. It should not be made extra hazardous by running counter to the warnings of experience.

We All Pay the Freight

The raise in railroad wages since 1915 last year added to the expense of living in this country $120.50 to each family in it, or $23.50 for every man, woman and child.

Very high wages always mean high cost of living, for the wages paid are charged to every article made by the wage earners. The increased freight rates are added to the retail price of every pair of shoes, sack of flour and suit of clothes sold. The people always pay the freight, but some of them are just learning that they also pay excessive wages of all the men employed in the manufacture of what they eat, wear and buy.

The result is a general sentiment for the reduction of war wages to a peace basis.

Are we to see pictures of the goat rampant in the drug store windows, advertising Rock beer to cure what ails you?—Columbus Democrat.

No. Beer always advertises itself to its loving friends. It is news of a sort that spreads like wild-fire in a locality where thirst is prevalent.

The great slump—a billion and a half—in income tax returns was not wholly unexpected. Individuals and corporations alike have felt the pinch of excessive costs, and the tax thermometer is only another impressive demonstration of facts.

WHO'S WHO

In The Days News

THOMAS W. MILLER
 The new custodian of alien property Thomas W. Miller, has had a varied career. He was born in Wilmington, Del. June 26, 1886. Several years of his early life, however, were spent on a ranch in Nevada.

He graduated from Yale in 1908 with a Ph. D. degree, and, becoming secretary to former Representative, lived in Washington, studied law there.

From 1913 to 1915 he was secretary of state in Delaware and in the latter year was elected to the Sixty-fourth congress. He attended the Plattsburg training camp in 1915 and then enlisted as a private in the infantry in 1917.

After the war he received his honorable discharge with the rank of lieutenant colonel. He served eleven months in France, receiving citations for gallantry in action and especially meritorious conduct.

New-York-Day-By-Day

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, March 21.—A page from the diary of a modern, Samuel Pepys. Up and to see a friend in the morning, poor fellow. On the way, in the tube, I saw Mr. Untermyer, the lawyer, who was smiling at a drawing in the public journals, but could not get near enough to see what it was.

Passing through Vesey Street and saw the first hardware store ever I saw in the city and fetched up at an old book-shop. Bought a volume of English synonyms and an old English hunting print. Home where comes a letter from Sinclair Lewis, the pamphleteer, who is in Cincinnati.

About doing my own business, writing and making ready for a long journey I am about to take. Comes Mark Connelley to tell of his new play "Dulce" and it is to be presented here shortly. With my dog to the dentist, but the brute barked so I had to send him home.

Walking through the town and put in at a Hawaiian place for dinner, the worst ever I ate, and R. Goldberg there thought so, too. Then to see Lionel Atwell in "Deburau," which I mightily liked, and the Countess Cechenylsat in a box and a brave pretty lady she is. Then for a snack and so to bed.

A New York student who wears tortoise shell glasses and plans some day to do something big—like washing an elephant or improving the Einstein theory—received a rude shock in a Broadway restaurant the other evening.

Finding a corner table he adjusted his glasses and gave the menu a stern look. Then he jerked his head to flip back a studious look and turned with ponderous mien to the waitress at his elbow.

"How's the chicken today?" he asked. "Fine, Old Top." How's the kid? was the unexpected reply.

He is a little prematurely aged man with white hair that falls over his forehead like bangs. He has a clerical look and a great deal of his time for recreation is spent at serious lectures. His home is in a quiet little section of Flatbush and here he raises chickens and has a small garden. His job is editor of a risqué sex magazine which has twice been barred from the mails because of its salacious contents.

There is a broken sort of curiosity about New Yorkers. Nothing that happens in public is considered as a private matter. A group of young girls were walking over Forty-Second Street. Suddenly they grouped about one of their number and stood there for a few seconds. Men and women began to crowd around and soon the sidewalk was impassable. Traffic policemen left their posts to see what was the matter. As one edged into the crowd a blushing girl said: "It is all right, Mizie here was simply fixing her shoe which had become unfastened."

The 5 cent shine has returned to Park Row, the only spot in town where the army of boot-blacks hangs out. No agreement had been made to reduce the price, but a husky woman, who was not afraid of a scrag, appeared there last week and began to solicit trade at the nickel rate. A chorus of protests followed but she refused to consider them and so one by one others followed his lead. Not a day later it is predicted that they will, or be forced out of business.

Q. Is there a reward offered for a process to harden copper? M. E. L. A. The Bureau of Standards says that there is nothing new or mysterious in hardened copper, there being two well known methods of hardening or tempering copper.

Q. We wish to plant some trees as memorials to our soldier dead. What kind would you advise? H. D. W. A. The Department of Agriculture suggests that black walnut trees be used for this purpose. Demand for this wood for war purposes depleted the number of trees and this would be an appropriate way of filling their places. Black walnut was used for gunstocks and airplane propellers, for gun nuts, while the nut meats were used in cakes and candies for the boys in the service.

Q. Do the Chinese eat much sugar? M. V. R. A. While the average consumption of other countries is 80 pounds of sugar a year for each person, in China it is but three pounds.

Q. How should mail be addressed in order to catch a boat going through the Panama Canal? J. L. W. A. Mails for ships passing through the canal or touching at either of the terminal ports should be addressed to "Cristobal, Canal Zone."

Q. Does the palate assist in talking? If so, how? O. P. S. A. The teeth, the hard palate, and the interior walls of the cheeks merely serve as a resonating surfaces in the process of language formation, and hence are sometimes termed the passive organs of speech. In contrast distinction to the active organs, which properly include only the tongue, the lips and the soft palate.

Q. How many states have Indian names? D. F. G. A. Twenty-three of the states have names derived from the Indian tongue. What causes the most fires? C. C. A. Electricity has been the chief cause of fire loss in the last five years, matches and smoking being second, and defective chimneys third.

Q. The many peons in the United States have servants? H. S. C. A. The last census on occupations showed that in 95 1-2 per cent of American homes, no servants were employed. The census that is being compiled at present will probably show an increase in servantless homes.

Q. Is a mile longer than a kilometer? T. N. Z. A. An English mile is longer than a kilometer, being equal to 1.609 kilometers.

Q. Must a man be dead to be elected to the Hall of Fame? H. C. B. A. A person must have been dead 10 years to be eligible to election in the "Hall of Fame."

Q. What American shipyard turned out the most vessels during the war? A. M. T. A. The Fore River shipyard stood first in shipbuilding during the war. O. Are diamonds affected by heat? E. E. W. A. ## THE FAMINE IN CHINA

Whatever mystery may surround political happenings in China, one piece of news stands out stark enough. The famine spells misery and extinction to armies of impoverished Chinese, and its end is not anticipated for several months.

It is difficult to visualize, at this distance, the extent of the disaster; but, as the facts become available, there is revealed not only a colossal misfortune but a simply astounding lack of machinery to cope with it.

It is harder still to comprehend the endless selfishness of the political struggle into which China's leaders pour every available coin they can lay their hands on, while this country of potential wealth is not permitted to encourage the human life in it.

Here are these starving people, with wasted crops, suffering not because of their own idleness or ineptitude but simply from ungovernable misfortune; at the mercy of profiteers among themselves who hold back supplies for a rising price, at the same time foreign philanthropy is striving to transport a modicum of food to nourish a trifling percentage of the sufferers. The food sent to them from relief agencies rolls up expenses as it travels, eating up the funds. No administrator takes the war-trained coolie labor and builds a light railway; if it was built there is no one to run it; if there was someone to run it, he would run the gauntlet of the official pilferers all along the route.

VITAMINES

Now what in the world is a vitamine?

We have known there were such things for a month or more, ever since, in fact, the yeast-eating craze made it self manifest, but, although we have conducted an exhaustive search, looked the word up in the dictionary and written to several correspondence schools, we have not yet got a real good, satisfying definition.

Now, when we thought we just about had a vitamine cornered, and were about to shake a pitchfork at it and demand to know what it was, along comes the department of agriculture with, a bulletin and gaily, cheerfully, nonchalantly says that no one really knows just what a vitamine is.

Vitamines are absolutely essential in food, says the bulletin, and they have been classified in three groups. The first kind is found in seeds, in green plants, in certain bulbs and fleshy roots and fruits, and in milk and eggs. The second group is to be found in butter, eggs and milk, and in the heart, liver and kidneys of edible animals. The third group is in grapefruit, lemons, oranges, tomatoes, spinach and lettuce, and in eggs and raw milk.

Eggs and milk—all three kinds of vitamins are in them. They are, according to dictators, the perfect foods. That is very consoling. Guess we'll just go along having two fried eggs for breakfast and drinking a glass of milk at every meal. Then, although we don't know what vitamins are, we'll be sure to have plenty of them.

WORLD MUST PAY ITS DEBTS

JUST how much of the talk about the cancellation of the allied debt to the United States was founded on fact and how much was propaganda may never be known, but it is gratifying to note that the British chancellor has announced that the principal and interest of the debt to the United States will be paid in full.

The great war debts are carried by the larger nations involved in the world war. Germany leading with about $55,000,000,000; France has $46,000,000,000 Great Britain $39,000,000,000, Russia $25,000,000,000, the United States $24,000,000,000, Italy $18,000,000,000 and Austria $17,000,000,000. Much of the debt of France and Italy owe to Great Britain, while England and France and Italy owe to the United States half of the total debt of this country. The total debt of all the nations is estimated at $28,000,000,000.

The nation which repudiates its debts has no more standing than the individual who resorts to tricks to evade his financial obligations. Just as the individual may be taught a lesson in business ethics by being held to responsibility, so the people may be taught the value of peace as a means of reducing the burden of debt.

The weather bureau may not always please, but its industry is to be commended.

Baseball men are sometimes sent to the bench, but Judge Landis may be ousted from his.

It costs something these days for a man to work up enough courage to go home and smash the furniture.

It is not long to wait for the day when the ladies, wearing furs, herald the return of summer.

The undertakers are busy, but they are not burying enough bandits and other crooks.

Honesty is the best policy, but it is a real man's job to keep the premiums paid up.

About the only way some men are able to break into the newspapers is by way of the courts.

If the killing of human beings in war does not tend to make peace, taxes may help some.

About the biggest pest is the person who can no stand it to see others having a good time.

Two things interest most persons—the earning value of a job and the purchasing value of money.
